

Assistive Technology and Employment For Students in Transition

December 12, 2013 - Crowne Plaza, Cromwell, CT - 9:00am-3:30pm

Presenters: Arlene Lugo, Program Director, CTTAP

Karen C. Stigliano, Consultant, Transition Consulting, LLC

At work, it's what employees CAN do that matters. Individuals with (dis)abilities possess talents and skills that add value to businesses and organizations. In our ever changing global economy, technology has created opportunities for people and companies alike. Given equal opportunities and accommodations, (including the use of assistive technology) individuals with disabilities make a significant contribution to our workforce.

Participants will:

EXPLORE assistive technology that is commonplace in the workforce;

EXAMINE tools that will help improve one's organization and time management skills;

INVESTIGATE AT resources and solutions on the internet for employees and employers;

EXAMINE and improve hard and soft skills success on the job; and

UTILIZE the Field Guide and Hiring Gauge with employers.

Participants (special educators, transition specialists, career counselors, guidance counselors, occupational therapists, AT specialists, job coaches)

Fee: $75 per person
